BURN AWARENESS ACTIVITY SHEET

ACTIVITY 1

FAMILY SCAVENGER HUNT: Hot • Not Hot • Sometimes Hot

Create small flashcards with “hot,” “not hot” or “sometimes hot” written on the back.

Tell your child you're going on a scavenger hunt to identify items in your home that are hot, not hot or sometimes hot.

Go together, but let your child lead the hunt. When your child finds an item, they should explain why the item is hot, not hot or sometimes hot, and allow you to tape the flashcard on or near the items. When finished, review all the items with your child.

Dear Family,

As the leader in pediatric specialty care of burns, Shriners Children's is reminding parents about common household items that can lead to a burn injury. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than 275,000 people are treated for unintentional burns each year. Children under the age of 5 are two times as likely to be seen for a burn injury at an emergency room. Most of those injuries occur in the home because of contact with hot objects or scalds, a burn caused by a liquid or steam.

Families can use this activity sheet to talk to their children about things around the home that are hot, not hot or sometimes hot. Together, we can help keep children safe from fire and burn injuries.
